Évolution de la production vivrière dans l'Inde contemporaine

Gilbert Étienne
Évolution de la production vivrière dans l'Inde contemporaine

Gilbert Étienne

ABSTRACTS

Food crop production trends in contemporary India. -- This paper analyses the factors that involved the take-off of Indian grain production and per capita cereal availability during the last 20 years. It points out the role of state investments in the formation of production prices and storage. But it shows also the persistance of local and social inequalities which are one of the unknown factors of this evolution.